Preface

I have been tracking all the scripophily auctions I can find for a number of years, and while this is still a work in progress, it is time to get this information out for people to see. I hope that as people see and review this, they offer additional information and corrections so that subsequent editions can be improved.

Over the years many people have sent me catalogs and data. The following are the people that I remember. If I have forgotten someone it is only a result of memory lapse and nothing else. I offer my thanks in no particular order to: Alex Witula, Bo Niklasson, Brian Mills, Bruce Castle, Bryce Brown, Francesca Charlton-Jones, Francoise Cifre, Franky Leeuwerck, H.J.W. Daugherty, John Herzog, Jorg Klindt, Klaus Rondot, Mario Boone, Martin Zanke, Max Hensley, Michael Weingarten, Paul Schmidt, Philip Atkinson, and Terry Cox. To repeat, if I have missed anyone it is purely by accident.

I have also obtained copies of catalogs and prices realized from a few library sources notably The American Numismatic Society Library, The British Library, Fitzwilliam's Museum Numismatic Library, and The Newman Numismatic Portal.

While a great deal of the data in this report has been generated by me, I have also used other sources when the raw data was unavailable. The other sources I have used are: Bond and Banknote News, der Aktiensammler, HP Magazin, Scrip Magazine, Scripophily, and Zeitung für Historische Wertpapiere.

While I have been working on this project for a number of years, a grant awarded to me by the Eric P. Newman Numismatic Education Society was a great help in moving this project along. And for this I am very grateful.

I would especially like to thank Philip Atkinson for his editing and proof reading.

Please send any additional information you have to twelo@optonline.net.

Chapter 1

Tracking these auctions is important

“The only way to determine the price of something with no inherent value is an auction.”

Scripophily is the collecting of shares, or stock certificates, and bonds. These usually have no monetary value and many have been redeemed and/or cancelled.

Because they no longer have any monetary value, how do you know what something is worth? Are rare pieces worth more than common pieces? Are pieces with signatures of famous people worth more than certificates with unknowns? Are certificates issued to famous people, but not signed by them, worth more than others? Are engraved pieces worth more than lithographed printed pieces? Are certificates with certain illustrations, or vignettes, worth more than others?

The answer to all these questions is, well maybe. Or maybe not.

Yes, as a general rule, rare is worth more, famous people are worth more, and finely engraved pieces are worth more. But there are scores of examples where seemingly plain and anonymous pieces sell for more.

Because these pieces can vary in price, having auction data gives an open and transparent indication of value. It's not perfect. As we know sometimes bidders get carried away at an auction, or a piece that is passed over by many is purchased for a low price.

More importantly for this report is that the summation of these auction results give the best indication of what the market for scripophily is. That is not to say it is the entire market, as there are many dealers offering a wide range of materials and pieces can be found in flea markets, antique shops, coin shops and fairs, etc.

This report looks at the entire scripophily auction market as best possible. The detail level here is a particular auction, not a particular piece. The data on the sale of individual pieces is available from other sources.

Looking at the auction market as a whole does tell us about this marketplace, its size and where it has been and potentially where it is going.

The data included in this report are from public and mail bids auctions. Some are devoted entirely to scripophily, but for many auctions, scripophily is only a part of the sale. The earliest auction reported is from 1975 and the data goes through the first quarter of 2020.

What is reviewed here are the name of the auction firm, the number of scripophily lots offered and the number of scripophily lots sold, the currency that was used for an auction and the total sales (hammer price plus buyers' premium) in both the local currency and the US dollar equivalent. Also listed is whether an auction catalog and/or prints realized for an auction are in the personal library of the author.

Chapter 2

A short history of scripophily auctions

The earliest scripophily auction found was held in Germany in 1975. The auction was conducted by the Ester Deutscher Historic-Actien-Club e.V. (EDHAC). This was a club of collectors of historic shares and bonds.

EDHAC conducted two auctions in 1976 and then things picked up with six auctions in 1977. Two of these are by EDHAC and two auctions are from the Numismatic and Antiquarian Service Corporation of American (NASCA). NASCA get credit for having the earliest sales of scripophily offerings in the United States even though the number of bonds and shares in their first sale was a modest 29 lots. 1976 also saw the first auction by Freunde Historischer Wertpapiere (FHW) and finally an auction by a firm named F. Doring. The F. Doring Sale offered 779 lots of which 654 were sold. The F. Doring sale was the largest sale of bonds and shares in that third year.

As you can see in Figure 1 below, from the late 1970's until the early 1990's there was a very steep growth in the number of scripophily lots offered for sale; after the 1990's the number lots continued to grow, but at slower rate.

The interesting thing about the data in Figure 1 is that, as with the number of lots offered, the number of lots sold from the late 1970's to the early 1990's also grew at a very strong rate. However, from about 1991 to the most recent, the number of lots sold at auction has been fairly constant hovering around the 20,000 mark.

What this tells us is that more and more auction lots are chasing the same number of buyers.

There was a significant spike in offerings and a corresponding spike in sales in 2008 as the Reichsbank hoard of bonds and shares were offered for sale. A hoard of this magnitude will most likely not be seen again.

Two auction firms have mostly been active for this entire time. The first is FHW which most recently held their 116th auction in September of 2019. FHW has also developed or purchased other brands including Gutowski, Deutsche Wertpapierauktionen GmbH (DWA) and Hanseatisches Sammlerkonter für Historische Wertpapiere (HSK). And all these together have held 272 auctions.

Another large active player in this marketplace is NASCA/Smythe/Spink New York. NASCA was purchased by R.M. Smythe in about 1984 and Smythe was then purchased by Spink in 2008. If you look at these three together, they have held 223 auctions. This figure is based on Spink's US sales and not their other locations.

In total, these two groups of firms, or brands, represent 495 auctions in this report of 3,043 auctions or about one-sixth of all scripophily auctions.

There were some auctions in the second half of the nineteenth century as well as the first half of the twentieth century in the United States of bonds of the Confederacy. However, these were primarily actions of Confederate currency and bonds only played a very minor role.

Chapter 3

Evolution of the Scripophily Catalog

The field of scripophily has stayed abreast with the changes in printing technology. People can now create very professional looking catalogs with their personal computers; a facility that was just not yet available in the late 1970's and early 1980's.

Early scripophily auction catalogs tended to be simply printed or even copied in black and white on inexpensive paper. The figure below illustrates that.

584	1912	I-	Bauern-Agrarbank	4 1/2% Anleihe Rubel 500,- Hochf. 1.Emission	10,--
585	1912	I-	Sibirische Handels-Bank	Aktie R. 500,- Hochf. m.dekorativer Abb.	15,--
586	1913	I-	Soc.A.des St.Petersbourg-Sabountschinskoe pour l'Industrie du Naphte et leCommerce	1 Aktie á R. 100,- Querf. brauner Rand Bakou 1913	10,--

Besides having very brief descriptions, illustrations of lots were quite rare. Most early catalogs only had a few illustrations of lots and they were usually limited to the lots with the highest estimates.

An exception to this were the Tschöpe catalogs. Not only was almost every lot illustrated, but the lot descriptions contained quite a bit of information. The figure on the top of the next page is from the very first Tschöpe catalog in 1980.

As personal computers became more powerful and pre-press software more readily available, catalogs evolved into quite nice published pieces. Not only were almost all lots illustrated in color, but the lot descriptions were also much more informative. Some firms even provided a rarity rating for certain lots to help buyers make more informed decisions.

As catalogs got better and more colorful, costs have risen to the point that some firms find it is not cost effective to produce printed catalogs. Many firms are using auction software where they can enter the lot description and illustration, or illustrations. Some are also producing PDFs of catalogs that bidders can look at either online or as downloads to their own PCs.

The potential danger to the hobby is that with all that is available online, we may lose the detailed information on an auction unless users make a determined effort to capture this information.

Chapter 4

Sales of Major Auction Houses

This chapter lists the 55 auction houses in this report that are considered major. A major auction house is one that conducted 20 or more auctions with scripophily pieces and/or has achieved total sales (hammer price plus premium) of US Dollars one million or more.

The total number of auction houses in this report number 160 of which 55 are considered to be the majors. The remaining 105 auction houses are considered minor. Before we get into the detail, here are some comparisons of the major and minor auction houses.

As mentioned, there are 55 major auction houses and 105 minor houses. The majors represent about a third (34%) of all the auction houses in this report. They also make up 86% of all the auctions that have been used in this report. And, they make up 91% of all the lots offered, 93% of all the lots sold and 96% of the total sales.

Each auction house is listed on its own page with a sample catalog cover and some commentary as well as data. The data displayed include: the years each firm has been active, the number of auctions held, the number of lots offered and the number of lots sold. The currency in which the auctions took place is also listed as well as the total sales (hammer price plus premium) in US dollars. US dollar equivalents were calculated on either the day of the sale, if possible, or the next regular business day that an exchange rate was available. Also included is the web address of the auction houses that are still currently operating.

For those looking for the detail by auction house, the pages where that data is presented in Appendix A are listed as well.

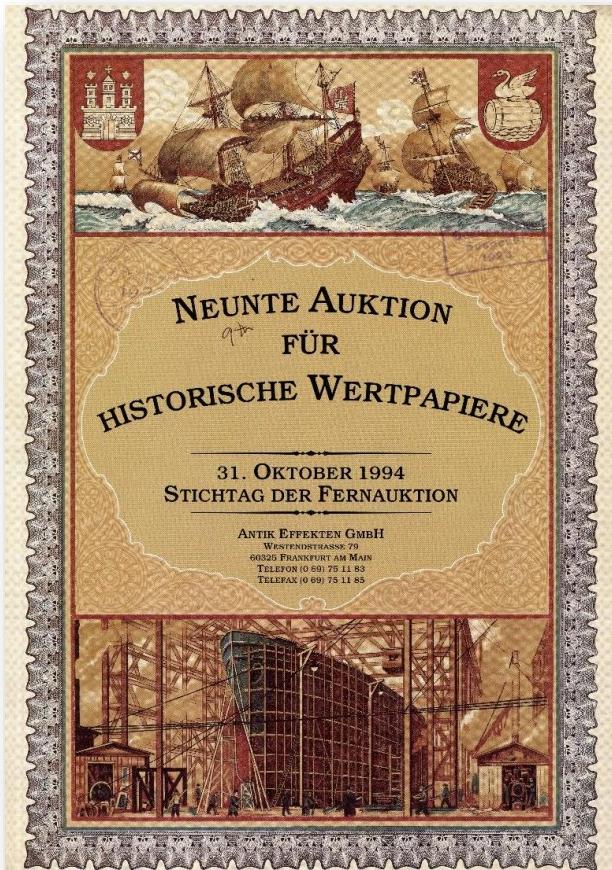

It will be surprising to some that Stanley Gibbons is not included in this chapter. That is because Gibbons only held 17 auctions and their total sales did not make the million dollar cut off.

The most prolific auction house here is a Norwegian firm called Skanfil. Skanfil is an auction house that offers coins, paper money, medals and other collectibles in addition to bonds and shares. The data available is from 1990 to the present and lists a total of 197 auctions. The data for all these sales comes from a report made available by the Norwegian Scripophily Society. Included are both public auctions and online auctions. The number of lots offered over all these sales is small at 4,213 with the number of lots sold at 2,681 and total sales of US Dollars 259,793. From this data it can be inferred that a few lots of bonds and shares are listed in many of their sales.

The author would like to especially thank Mr. Ulrich Drumm for some of the anecdotal information on the German auction houses.

If anyone has further information or corrections on any of these auction houses, please contact the author at twelo@optonline.com.

HWP^H – Historisches Wertpapierhaus AG

This auction firm was founded and is still run by Matthias Schmitt.

This firm is known for producing excellent catalogs and typically runs auctions twice a year. Each auction has two parts, a public auction of higher end pieces and an additional online auction with less expensive pieces.

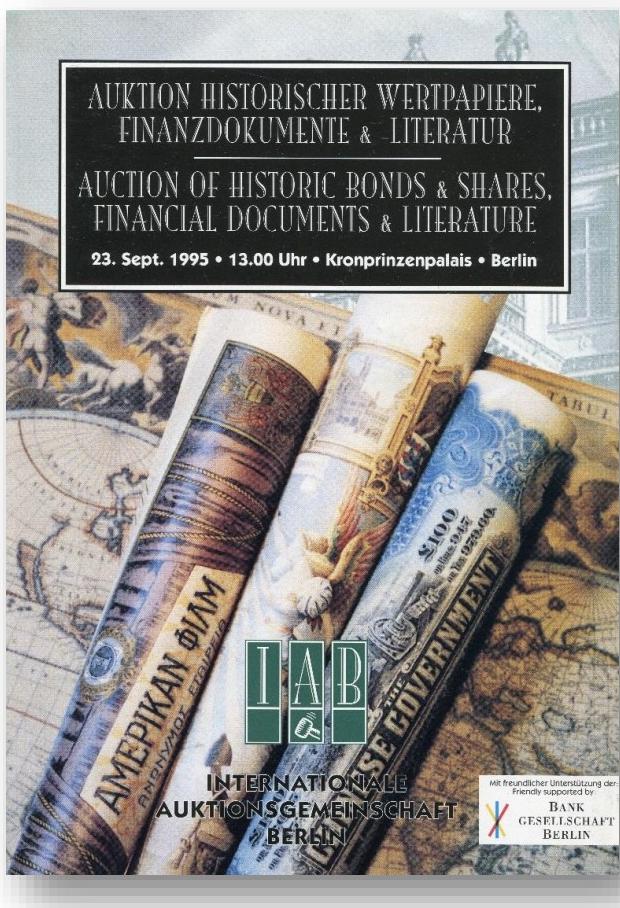

Each auction also has an additional catalog of the 50 highlights for a sale.

Catalogs and price realized are readily available on their website.

IAB – Internationale Auktionsgemeinschaft Berlin

This auction was formed by Stefan Adan, Erik Boone and Karl-Michael Kuppa.

They ran a number of auctions but stopped when Erik Boone died.

Their catalogs were well done and interestingly the description of German lots were in German and all others were described in English.

Had Erik Boone lived longer, this firm may have become a serious competitor to FHW.

International Bond and Share Society Auctions

These auctions were only for members of the International Bond and Share Society.

For the majority of the time Bruce Castle organized these sales.

There were typically three or four auctions year.

Bruce did a great job of acquiring moderately priced pieces that all could afford.

Sadly, after Bruce gave up this work, the society struggled with finding a replacement and finally ceased these auctions in 2017.

- 1 1876 Cuba: Empresa del Ferro-Carril Urbano y Omnibus de la Habana 20.00
Habana 31.10.1876 1 sh. 500 CUP #4659 VG
This is very rare. Havana-based tram company was formed in 1863. Their lines were covering most of the city, and the limit of one million passengers was exceeded first time in 1870. The company is known for introducing an American origin tram wagon. Horse power was replaced with steam in the mid-1870s and the first electrified line was opened in 1900.
- 2 1921 Cuba: The Cuba Railroad Company 20.00
Havana 01.12.1921 gold loan 7.5 % 500 USD #133 EF- folded. A 15-year railway bond. Which has some interesting steam train motifs on tobacco and sugar cane plants on its large vignette. Post cards below show the turning station of Camaguey in 1910 and 1912. Campaign against the USA and Britain, an important knot of the railways of Cuba. Railway theme has been popular also among Cuban stamps. Below can be seen some train related Cuba stamps from the 1920s and 1930s.
- 3 1953 Cuban Government Railways of Cuba 20.00
01.03.1953 gold bond 3 % 1000 CUP #496819.
This company was combined from several regional railway operators in 1924. The early 1950s its lines were over 1600 km. This bond was issued in exchange under 2001, but government of Castro nationalized the company in 1960 and paying interest was halted. Nowadays the state-owned railroad network of Cuba reaches about 5000 km (less than now). Though, the last more than 100 km is under electrification. Track gauge is 1435 mm (same as in North America and western Europe). During last decade there's been new investments from China, so the existing stock contains still many old Soviet engines. Picture below represents an express train of the company heading from Havana to Santiago in the early 1950s.

Papierania Baral/Peplinski GbR

Mr. Peplinski and Mr. Baral are dealers in all things made of paper including postcards, old newspapers, books, advertisements, and bonds and shares.

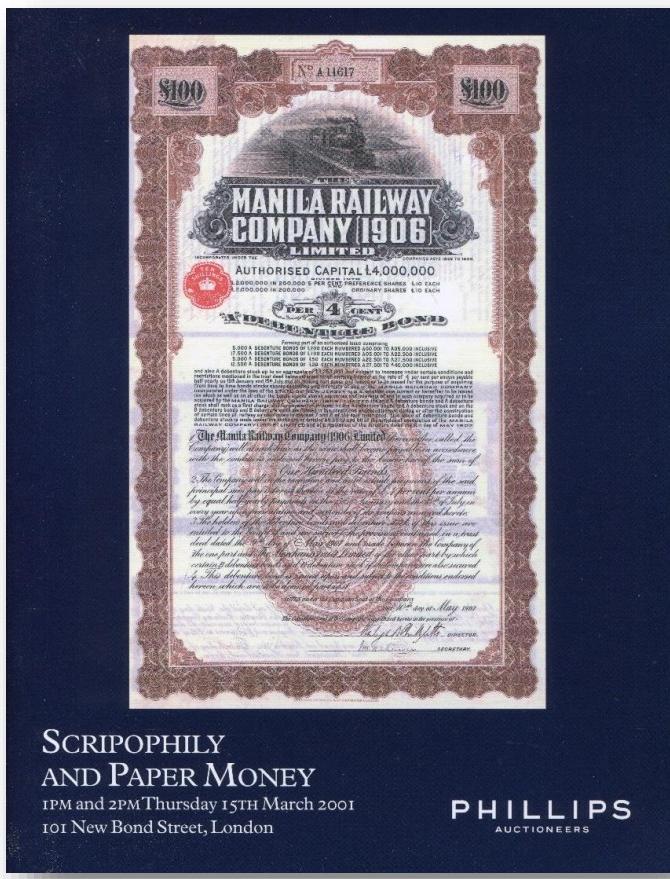

They tend to deal in the lower end of the market and are often found in flea markets.

They recently announced that future auctions will only be via the internet, without printed catalogs.

As this is more of a hobby than business, it can be somewhat difficult to get the prices realized for a sale.

Phillips

Over a span of 23 years Phillips conducted 74 scripophily auctions. These appear to be small auctions in that they contained about 150 lots per sale.

However, because many of the lots contained multiple pieces, Phillips sold around 270,000 bonds and shares.

Phillips was purchased by Bonham's but they did not continue with these particular auctions.

YangMing is a Shanghai based auction firm. Like others, they also auction coins, paper money and other collectables.

Their scripophily sales also contain a section of historical documents. The sales are quite large averaging slightly more than 1,000 scripophily lots per sale.

Due to the look and design of the catalogs it is believed that some of the staff from Hosane have migrated to YangMing.

Chapter 5

Sales of Minor Auction Houses

This chapter lists the 105 auction houses that are minor players in the scripophily auction marketplace. These are firms that conducted 19 or less auctions in total or had total sales (hammer plus premium) of less than US one million dollars.

Each firm is listed with the same data as for the major firms in the previous chapter. However, there is no image of a catalog nor any anecdotal information.

There is a very good chance that in a few years' time, some of these firms will move up to the status as a major player in this marketplace.

Appendices

Appendix A: List of Auctions by Auction House. This is a detailed listing of auctions by auction house or firm. Each firm is listed alphabetically and then contains for each auction: the date of each auction, the name or number of the auction, the number of lots off, the number of lots sold, the buyers' premium charged, the currency for the auction, the total (hammer price plus premium) in the local currency, the US Dollar equivalent of the total of the sale (again, hammer price plus premium), and an indication as to whether the auction catalog and the prices realized are in the authors collection. Finally for each auction house, there are the totals for all their auctions.

Appendix B: List of Auctions by year. This is the detailed listing of auctions by year. It contains the same data as in Appendix A as well as the totals for each year.

Appendix C: Phillips' Scripophily Auctions. This is a detailed analysis of the auctions from the Phillips Auction House. An appreciated version of this analysis was published in the December, 2013 issue of Scripophily.

Phillips' Scripophily Auctions: Small Auctions with a Big Effect

Over a span of twenty-three years, from 1979 through 2001, Phillips Son & Neale of London conducted 73 scripophily auctions. By today's standard these appear to be small auctions in that they contained somewhere between 100 and 300 lots per sale. The overall average was about 150 scripophily lots in each sale. The sales for these 73 auctions totaled £1,514,194 (this figure and all others include any buyer's premiums). The effect on the scripophily marketplace is substantial as these auctions sold a little over 270,000 certificates.

It all started on July 17th in 1980 with an auction of Scripophily: Auction of Bonds and Shares. In that initial sale, 152 lots of bonds and shares were offered and 129 lots (84%) were sold. The pre-sale estimate for the auction was £14,464 to £19,737 and the total for the sale was £11,615. The buyer's premium charged was 10%.

Of all the 73 auctions, all but five were combined with paper money or other items. The five exceptions were scripophily-only auctions in December of 1979, February of 1980, April of 1980, April of 1981 and March of 1985. In June of 1990 there was a Scripophily and Paper Money and a Mississippi Bonds auction, each with a separate printed catalog even though the sales occurred on the same day.

For the years 1979 through 1985 these auctions continued as the staff at Phillips learned the scripophily market and the market itself developed. During these first six years of sales, the percentage of lots sold ranged from a low of 39% sold (April 1980) to a high of 89% (February 1984). Total sales ranged from a low of £982 (April 1982) to a high of £20,208 (February 1980). During this time period the number of certificates sold, while substantial, was small compared to what would happen starting in 1986.

Things changed in 1986 in that the percentage of lots sold increased (90% sold for the January 1986 sale) and the number of certificates that changed hands greatly increased. Up to and including the January 1986 sale, the total sales for an auction only passed the £10,000 mark and that happened with the first two sales. Beginning with the May 1986 sale; the total sales never went below £11,000.

The largest sale occurred in February of 1999 when 286 lots were offered and 243 (85%) sold for a total of £71,001.

The final sale in October of 2001 offered 195 scripophily lots of which 145 (74%) were sold. The total for this last sale was £44,520. When Phillips sold a portion of its auction business to Bonhams in November 2001, these sales ceased under the Phillips name.

David Boyd, the auctioneer for most of these sales, said: "Looking at this data, it made me feel quite proud of what we achieved at Phillips. I believe Scripophily was, and still is, a collecting area in its infancy. The auctions run by Phillips certainly helped to popularize the hobby and it is a shame that sales were terminated in 2001."

What sets these Phillips auctions apart from many other auctions are the number of certificates that changed hands. As mentioned previously, over 270,000 certificates were sold over these 73 auctions. A review of the catalogs shows a very substantial number of lots with 100 or more certificates on offer.

In the 26 auctions from 1980 through 1985 the number of certificates sold averaged a little less than 1,000 per auction. With auctions that started in 1986 and through the end of the auctions in 2001, the number of certificates that changed hands averaged a little over 5,000 per auction.

Over these 73 auctions, there were 52 lots where one thousand or more certificates were available. In fact, these 52 lots offered a little over 90,000 certificates to the market and that represented almost 30% of all the certificates put up for sale. Again, the year of 1986 seems to be a dividing line.

Prior to 1986 there was only one lot that offered more than 1,000 certificates (March, 1983). In other words in only 1 of the first 26 auctions was there a lot of over 1,000 certificates. However, starting with the January 1986 auction, the occurrence of lots with over 1,000 certificates was quite common. More than half of the auctions from 1986 through 2001 had lots of over 1,000 certificates, and in many cases, auctions had several lots with over 1,000 certificates on offer.

The largest offering of certificates over the years occurred in March of 1987 when the first lot of the auction offered: "A very large carton containing over 5,000 bonds, share certificates and debentures. Mainly British financed. Poor-VF." It carried with it an estimate of £600 to £800 and it was knocked down for £1,210.

Another very memorable large lot occurred in October of 1996. The pieces on offer were 1,000 certificates of The Channel Tubular Railway. It carried an estimate of £60,000 to £80,000 but it failed to sell. It was important enough to also be illustrated on the cover of the catalog. David Boyd told this writer: "I regret not having been able to sell The Channel Tubular Railway certificates; a sale price of say £50k would have improved the overall total!"

In addition to the lots with a large number of certificates, Phillips also offered a number of individual pieces over the years. The highest priced individual certificate sold was a Stockton and Darlington Railway share from the early 1830's (issue date partially removed by a cancellation cut) that was printed on vellum. It carried a pre-sale estimate of £5,000 to £7,000 and was knocked down for £12,075. Another expensive piece was an 1869 Erie Railroad Company share signed by Jay Gould offered in February of 1993 which sold for £7,150 from a pre-sale estimate of £1,500 to £2,000.

In June of 1989, a certificate of the Australian Agricultural Company from 1825 sold for £4,950 on an estimate of £3,000 to £4,000. Later that same year (October, 1989), a lot of 250 British mining certificates sold for £3,740 on an estimate of £1,000 to £1,500. And at that same auction, a lot of approximately 300 South and Central American mining and railway certificates sold for £3,740 from an estimate of £1,000 to £1,500.

Two offerings of certificates from the Liverpool and Manchester Railway made the list of high priced pieces sold. The first was a certificate from 1826 printed on vellum that sold for £4,620 from an estimate of £3,500 to £4,500. Another certificate from 1829, also printed on vellum, sold for £5,175 from an estimate of £4,000 to £6,000.

At the October 1997 auction, the second lot of the auction contained two large boxes of mainly Russian bonds and shares sold for an amazing £4,600 given the pre-sale estimate of only £300 to £500.

In February 1999, a Standard Oil Company certificate signed by Rockefeller and Flagler sold for £4,370 on an estimate of £3,000 to £4,000. In June of that same year, 230 examples that were bound together in a book of the Lung-Tsing-U-Hai Railway (China) were knocked down for £3,105 from an estimate of £600 to £800.

At the March 2001 auction, 47 examples of the Thames Iron Works Shipbuilding and Engineering £100 debentures from 1899 signed by T. H. Hills sold for £3,680 from an estimate of £500 to £700. Later that year (October 2001), 1,203 certificates from the United States Car Company sold for £4,140 based on a pre-sales estimate of £3,500 to £4,500.

In June of 1991, 150 examples of Gibraltar Gas Company sold for £3,190 just above the pre-sale estimate of £2,000 to £2,500.

A year later in June of 1992, a British piece, The Governor of Company of Mine Adventurers of England 1713 subscription receipt for one share of the capital stock was knocked down for £2,860 from an estimate of £1,500 to £2,000.

A certificate entitled: The Company of Undertakings of the Grand Canal, Ireland, from 1772 was sold in October of 1995 for £2,990 right within the estimate of £2,500 to £3,000.

Over the years, there were a number of times where the price a lot sold for was dramatically different from the pre-sales estimate.

The biggest surprise occurred at one of the early auctions in April of 1981. A lot of 102 certificates of the Hungary 1910 4% State Bond carried an estimate of only £30 to £40 and when the hammer finally came down it sold for £1,155 or a little over 25 times the high estimate.

At the October 1984 sale, a 1791 Basingstoke Canal Navigation certificate for a one pound share on vellum along with an 1831 transfer document carried a pre-sales estimate of £50 to £60 and was knocked down for £594. At the same sale, a 1793 Hereford and Gloucestershire Canal Navigation £100 share on vellum sold for £506 from an estimate of £50 to £60. Yet, at the same sale (October 1984) the second lot of the sale was “an intriguing quantity of bonds and shares, including indentures, on vellum and paper, as well as booklets, bills and receipts” carried a pre-sales estimate of £100 and up, but only managed to sell for £22.

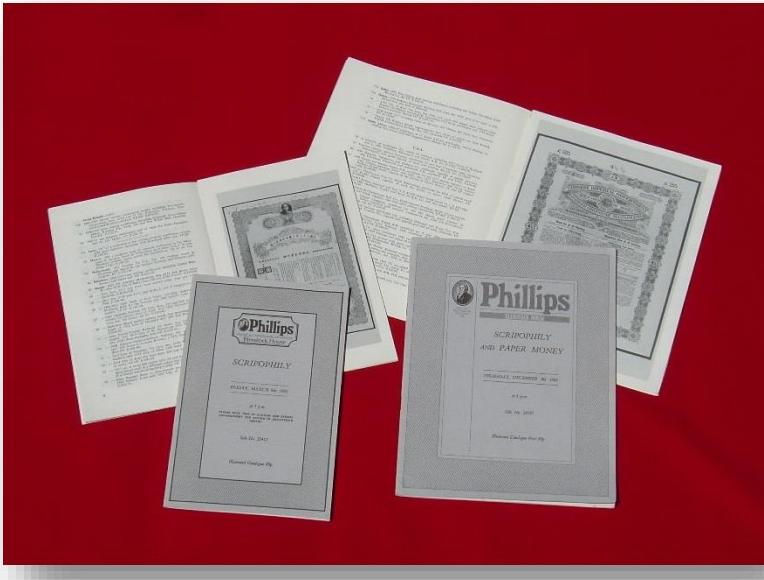

At the sixth Phillips sale in December of 1980, two examples of a China 1925 5% Boxer Loan $50 issued by the Banque Industrielle de Chine sold for only £16.50 from an estimate of £80 to £100.

In the last sale that Phillips held in October of 2001, 12 bonds of the Manila Railway Company in various denominations sold for £46 from a pre-sale estimate of £200 to £300.

Compared to many auctions today, the buyer's premium was modest at Phillips. From the first auction in 1979 through the February 1993 auction, the premium charged was 10%. Starting with the June 1993 auction, and for the remainder of the auctions, the premium was 15%.

When Phillips began their scripophily auctions, they occurred about once a quarter and they continued this schedule until the end of 1984. Starting in 1985, they scheduled three auctions a year, one in the winter, a second in late spring/early summer and a final sale in the fall. This three auctions-a-year schedule ran through 1999. In 2000 and early catalogs ranged from 80p to £1.

2001, there were two auctions each year and these occurred in the months of March and October.

Over the years the auction catalogs also evolved.

In the early years the catalogs were fairly small (5 ½ by 8 ½ inches) with plain covers. But, depending on the sale, some catalogs were larger (7 by 9½ inches). Lot descriptions were quite brief, usually only two or three lines of copy and only a very few lots were pictured. The price for

During the middle period of the auctions, the catalogs grew a little in size (7 by 9½ inches) and sported a glossy cover. Lot descriptions were still fairly brief and, as before, only a few of the most important lots were pictured. During this time the price of the catalogs ranged from £2 to £5.

Starting with the May 1996 auction, the catalogs again grew in size (about 8 by 11 inches) with a glossy cover. Again the lot descriptions were fairly brief compared to what we see today and only the most significant lots were pictured.

- *51 1845 Staffordshire and Shropshire Junction Railway and 1866 New Romney Railway Co., £10 share certificate. Both VF. E £30/40.
- 52 1845 (c.) Glasgow and South Western Railway Ardrossan Guaranteed Stock, unissued certificates all dens., from £5 to £1,000, 15 certificates in all. UNC. E £50/60.
- 53 1846 Great Northern Railway Co., £25 share certificate, on mauve, embossed seal. Also 1857 Oude Railway scrip certificate and 1925 Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific R.R. $1,000 bond. VF-EF. E £30/40.
- *54 1852 The Madras Railway Company, certificate for one £20 share, scrolled title, embossed seal. EF. E £20/30.

During the entire run of the Phillips auctions, catalog descriptions were fairly brief as you can see here. This is from the March 8, 1985 auction.

I spoke with Brian Asquith, who worked at Phillips on these auctions from 1991 until the Bonhams takeover and he said: "it was a real pleasure to handle these items such as the Liverpool and Manchester Railway as it represented the beginning of a world changing way of travel. He also commented that seeing and holding the Channel Tubular Railway was a great thrill when you see the certificate with the steam engine depicted in a tunnel under the Channel."

He further commented that Leslie Tripp, who put together the lots and wrote the descriptions: “agonized for hours to get the estimates right for both the buyer and the seller, which, when you think about it is just about impossible.”

When I spoke with Brian Mills about this article he said: “the Phillips auctions were always a very good place to find good quality British material.”

What Phillips contributed to the scripophily marketplace was substantial. This writer thinks it is doubtful if we will ever have a series of auctions moving this volume of certificates again.
